

A SOCIAL NETWORK

Discovering new contacts and nurturing existing ones are key opportunities for successful base oils and lubricants professionals – but it can be difficult to meet with relevant peers. The ICIS Middle Eastern Base Oils & Lubricants Conference will provide a platform for you to interact with fellow attendees and industry thought leaders.

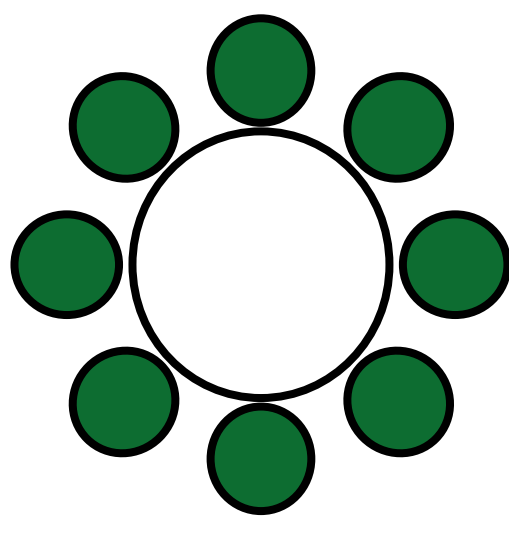

WHAT'S NEW?

Key features that you can benefit from this year include meeting pods, an exclusive networking platform and roundtables all designed to bring experts together in an innovation-driven environment. This year's event has been directly influenced by industry players to address the needs of the base oils and lubricants community, to ensure your business is sustainable into the future.

THE SESSIONS

New to this year's conference are roundtable sessions that allow you to interact with other attendees to share challenges and solutions with an industry expert. With sessions on hot topics from synthetics and packaging to sanctions and industrial lubricants, the roundtables are your best opportunity to gain solutions for the challenges your business is experiencing.

THE PODS

The event will have networking pods on site that can be booked for meetings and for presentations to your prospective clients. Make the most out of the networking opportunities at the event by booking a pod in advance. By doing this you can ensure that you capitalise on the high-number of potential new contacts at the event whilst fostering existing ones.

TESTIMONIALS

"As always the place for interesting discussions, starting business connections and insightful presentations concerning the Middle Eastern Market."

MALIKPIMS

"Extraordinary, large and professional conference. The two biggest advantages of this conference compared to others: wide geography with companies from all over the world and the opportunity to start negotiations before the conference through the chat."
