11.00.a.m-12.00.p.m	Chase India and the UK Department for International Development present: The Future of Fintech What opportunities do Fintech solutions present to the Indian financial services market? Critical sectors of the economy such as affordable housing, financial inclusion and the provision of land record management could reap huge benefits from this emerging sector but what are the challenges, and how do we develop regulatory interventions that can enable focussed intervention? We'll discuss these questions and more in this session, all set to a backdrop of possible areas for UK-India collaboration in the Fintech space.	Mr.Kaushal Mahan, (Moderator), Lead – Technology Practice, Chase India Dr. Renuka Sane, Associate Professor, National Institute of Public Finance and Policy (NIPFP) Mr. Bipin Preet Singh, Founder-CEO-Director, Mobikwik Ms.Suniti Nanda , Fintech Officer, Government of Maharashtra Mr. Alok Mittal, MD &amp; CEO, Indifi
12.00.p.m-01.00.p.m	The Future of Manufacturing One of the major challenges in the commercialisation of innovation is to get academic research from the lab to the shelf in the market place, whether in the UK or India. What can we learn from the high value manufacturing catapults that have played a unique role in bridging this gap in the UK? The India-UK Tech Partnership announced earlier this year aims to bring together the needs and capabilities of the UK and India to better enable us to work together to address common problems. This includes commissioning the Manufacturing Technology Centre in Coventry to examine the feasibility, delivery mechanisms, roadmap and funding for a potential UK-India Future Manufacturing Centre similar to the UK Catapults. Through a series of questions and discussions this interactive session calls on you - the audience, to generate ideas on the potential form of a UK and India Joint Centre and identify	Mr. Kishore Jayaraman, President, Rolls Royce India and South Asia Mr. Clive Hickman, Chief Executive at Manufacturing Technology Centre Limited Mayor Dan Jarvis, Sheffield City Region

Zone 1 – WORK (Hotel Imperial Lawn)

Time	Topic	Speakers
11.00.a.m-12.00.p.m	NASSCOM presents Future Skills: An industry-driven learning ecosystem The emergence of new and scalable technologies of the future determines not only the way we do business today but will change the future of work. Of the 4.5 m people employed in the IT-ITES industry today, 1.5-2 m are expected to require reskilling in the next 4-5 years. In recognition of this need, the Future Skills platform - a NASSCOM initiative, was launched by Prime Minister Modi earlier this year. This interactive session will highlight the importance of reskilling to meet the future demands of new technologies, and will explore the platform - including a live demo for those who can attend! Expect an impactful session that brings together both suppliers and end users around the same table, to take a look at how the platform has been created and received in a way that delivers real skills benefit.	Ms. Divya Gupta (Moderator), Partner and Solutions Lead, NASSCOM Mr. Amit Aggarwal, Global Head of Learning and Development, Genpact

03.00.p.m-05.00.p.m	Cyber War Games  In today's digitally hyper-connected world, we should no longer be asking 'can a cyber-attack happen to us?' - the answer is yes. Instead, the question should be 'are we ready to respond?'.  A poor response can be more damaging than the attack itself. Join this session to hear experts from a range of backgrounds discuss how to respond to a cyber-attack - as the attack unfolds . The debate will highlight the need to take a multi-stakeholder approach, and will promote solutions to help deal with an attack at any stage from mitigation, protection, detection and analysis all the way through to recovery. With the cost of data breaches forecast to increase to over £6 trillion globally	Rt Hon Dr Liam Fox , UK Secretary of State for International Trade  Dr. Gulshan Rai , National Cyber Security Coordinator, Indian Prime Minister's Office  Mr. Simon Hosking , Vice President, International Security Programmes, BAE Systems plc  Mr. Andrew Macintosh , Deputy Managing Director, South Asia – Control Risks  Mr. Robert Daniels , GM Portfolio Strategy and Propositions, Security, BT  Dr. Sanjay Bahl , Head of CERT-IN  Col Andy Anand , CEO, India Future Foundation
