Tom Flatau The Neuroscience of Leadership

CIOB, and Constructing Excellence (CE) are collaborating to bring you Tom Flatau's innovating workshop 'The Neuroscience of Leadership'

Tom will be returning to Hampshire to offer an insight into the latest neuroscience and positive psychology research, which shows that success and outstanding performance are within your grasp. Because talent and leadership ability can actually grow!

Learn how to transform your mindset and harness the power so often seen in successful people.

The solution lies in your power to rewire your brain, you can literally change your brain structure to extinguish stress and light up your higher brain functions such as decision-making, creativity and interpersonal abilities. This workshop will challenge you to unlock barriers and bring success, happiness and fulfilment throughout your workplace.

Learn how to get twice the productivity out of your staff.

This interactive mini workshop will be well attended, and you are advised to book your space early! The event is open to all sectors and offers ample opportunities to network.
