CMYA in Ireland 2019

20th June 2019, Croke Park Stadium, Jones Road, Dublin 3

"I am immensely proud, I was absolutely delighted to win my category, but never imagined I'd get the top award. I couldn't believe it when they called my name out – it was incredible, just amazing!"

Nick Oldfield, CMYA in Ireland
Winner 2017

About the Awards

Construction Manager of the Year is the gold standard of award accolades.

Our awards are renowned rigorous process and fairness. Every year our elite judging team spends six months examining competitors projects and ultimately deciding on the CMYA in Ireland winner. Time and again our judges identify leaders of the future.

Winning a category marks a person out as an inspiring leader. Scooping the top award demonstrates that they are among the very best of their generation.

Ronan said: “Winning the Irish CMYA award was an amazing experience for me. Having being immersed in project after project, for many years and to suddenly receive this unexpected validation from highly respected, senior CIOB professionals, was something really special. Well done to the CIOB for providing an opportunity for me and my fellow construction managers, to experience a rare but welcome ‘time in the sun’.”

Ronan Moore, CMYA in Ireland Winner 2015

The adjudicators stated that, “Thomas is a construction manager with exceptional technical capability and in addition, an ability to communicate effectively with ALL members of his design and build team. During the project the design and build remit involved intense deliberation with the network suppliers, the design teams, the procurement and shipping process, and three construction teams on three sites.”

Thomas O’Connor was the CMYA in Ireland Winner 2013
